About JEREMY:

My husband is loyal, loving, and fun. He has a warm personality that makes people feel comfortable around him, and he brings so much joy into our home. He has always loved being around children and is often the one making them laugh or smile. In fact, he was the first to suggest adoption because of how deeply he wants to share his life with a child. He can't wait to pass along his "dad jokes," life lessons, and encouragement to help guide a child into becoming the very best version of themselves.

As a partner, I admire his fierce loyalty and the way he always protects and cares for those he loves. He is incredibly hardworking, not only in his career but also in the way he tends to our home and our life together. Even with my long hours, he makes sure dinner is ready and waits so we can share our evenings together. I truly couldn't imagine doing life without him.

Family will always come first for him, and that's reflected in everything he does. He holds a high-level position with the federal courts and takes pride in his strong work ethic. Outside of work, he has a love for theater — a passion from earlier in his life that he now enjoys by attending shows with me whenever we can. He also takes great pride in our home, especially the yard, and has turned it into one of the most beautiful in our neighborhood. We also keep a garden, and he loves sharing our fresh produce with our neighbors.

He also has a wonderfully fun and lighthearted side. He loves silly jokes, funny videos, and anything that reminds us not to take life too seriously. He creates such a cozy and welcoming home, always filling it with warmth, delicious meals, and flickering candles that make it feel truly special. He is always up for an adventure, and his joy and laughter make our house feel like home.

Beyond all that, he is kind, patient, and deeply dependable. He is the person friends and family can always count on, the first to offer help without hesitation. With me, he shows incredible patience and understanding, especially when my ADHD challenges surface. At work, he leads his staff with fairness and patience as well. At home, he never misses a family event, always makes sure I'm taken care of after long workdays, and is there for me no matter the inconvenience.

Most of all, he is so excited to become a dad. He dreams of creating cherished memories with our child, giving them unconditional love, and raising them with empathy and kindness. He hopes to be the kind of father to our child that his own dad was to him — a source of love, guidance, and constant support.

Jeremy has a wide range of hobbies that reflect his love of life, creativity, and connection with others. He enjoys spending time outdoors, taking the dogs for walks, hiking, and tending to his yard and garden—his pride and joy, which he lovingly maintains and often says is one of the best in the neighborhood. He loves traveling, exploring new sights, relaxing by the beach, lake, or pool, really any body of water, and boating whenever he can. Jeremy has a deep passion for the arts—he loves theater, musicals, and music, and fondly remembers participating in shows himself. He is also an amazing cook and baker, and enjoys bringing people together over delicious meals. While he treasures quiet evenings at home, creating a warm and welcoming space, he also loves social outings with friends, whether it's dinner, a show, or exploring new experiences. His hobbies reflect his joyful, balanced approach to life and his commitment to making home, family, and friendships meaningful.

My husband will be an incredible father. He is phenomenal with kids and still has a kid-at-heart side that makes children naturally drawn to him. He'll be the dad cheering at every school event or sports game, filling our home with his famous "dad-isms" and jokes, making sure our child always feels supported no matter what the world throws at them. He is patient, affectionate, and the kind of parent who will happily give all the cuddles and love a child could want.

Jeremy's Career

Jeremy is the Divisional Manager for the U.S. District Courts.. Over his career, he has demonstrated exceptional dedication, leadership, and organizational skill, rising to a position of significant responsibility without having completed a traditional college degree. Starting his career at a law firm, he quickly distinguished himself through his hard work and professionalism, which led him to join the clerk's offices for the U.S. District Courts. There, he supported numerous judges and high-level court cases, earning a reputation for reliability, integrity, and excellence.

Our home is a two-story house with a finished basement, featuring a spacious fenced-in backyard where we garden, gather for cook-outs and bonfires, and enjoy playtime with our nieces, nephews, and friends' children. Our home truly feels like a haven, and we are excited about the memories we will create there with our future child. Our home makes us feel grounded and comfortable.

We are fortunate to have family and friends living close by, which fosters a strong support network. We have friends just a few streets away and have become very close with our neighbors. Additionally, having family in Michigan and Florida gives us opportunities to travel, connect with loved ones, and enjoy new experiences together.

Our town offers a variety of activities, including local festivals, farmers' markets, and outdoor sporting events. We especially enjoy attending the symphony in the park each summer as an annual event!

We live in subdivision of a large metropolitan area of approximately 350,000 people. Our neighborhood has a friendly family-oriented atmosphere where children play outside and families walk, run, and ride bikes each day. We enjoy the close proximity to several schools, parks, the library, and various amenities, making it an ideal setting for raising a family.

OUR HOME & PETS

We are proud pet owners of a playful Goldendoodle named Enza, and a fluffy Lakeland Terrier named Finn. Finn is friendly and loves to play in the yard or go for long walks around the neighborhood, while Enza has a calm demeanor and enjoys lounging around the house, particularly the middle of the king size bed! Both our pets are great with children and have a natural gentleness about them, always eager to be part of activities. We envision them as wonderful playmates for our future child, providing companionship and joy

It was the love we share with each other, our friends, and our families that sparked our decision to adopt, as we deeply desire to welcome a child into our loving family. Jeremy's family has many adoptions, including his father as well as aunts and uncles, so next to a natural birth, adoption is the second most natural to us and our family.
